Dear [ Dr.Adawia Fadhil Abbas Alzubaidi],

Congratulations on your completion of the Health Security Stewards Fellowship! From December 2018 through March 2020, you were an integral part of one of HSP's most enthusiastic and productive cohorts of Fellows, and we were truly inspired to work with each of you. You successfully fulfilled the course requirements, including participation in the Fellowship Training Institute held in Baghdad in March 2019 and completion of the Fellowship's virtual curriculum on health security. You have now mastered the key subject areas in health security focused on the spectrum of biological threats from Mother Nature to bioterrorism, and the required capacities to prevent, detect and respond to these evolving threats in Iraq. More importantly, you have developed and implemented training courses in health security for the next generation of scientists and health professionals as well as many community outreach programs. Collectively, your work to bolster health security in Iraq has reached more than 2,800 people!

When I met you at the CBRN Conference in Baghdad in April 2019, you had just completed the training institute. I was immediately impressed by your interest in health security, posters, presentations and your active participation in the conference. Since then, you have excelled in the program and become champions for health security in Iraq.

This fellowship set the stage for your active involvement in the national COVID-19 pandemic response in Iraq. We have been amazed by your tireless efforts to raise community and health sector awareness, advance public health control measures, conduct diagnostic testing for COVID-19, support disinfection at your universities, and provide continuing education to scientists and health professionals. From Duhok to Basra, Iraq is fortunate to have this network of champions around the country to counter the pandemic and future health security challenges.

Throughout this fellowship, you have also worked with your colleagues to collaboratively develop an AMR dictionary in Arabic, draft a Code of Conduct for biosecurity for the university sector in Iraq, and many other successful efforts. These activities and products will benefit stakeholders in Iraq and the region as a whole.

HSP thanks you for your exceptional work during the Health Security Stewards Fellowship, for your valuable contribution to the program, and most importantly, your commitment to advancing health security. As an alumnus of the Health Security Stewards Fellowship, we know that you will continue to grow as a leader in health security. We hope that you will stay connected with HSP and help us train and mentor future cohorts of fellows in Iraq and globally.

Sincerely,
